Real CISSP wins, shared by our community on LinkedIn.

Balancing preparation with professional responsibilities was not easy, but this journey reinforced an important lesson : resilience, discipline, and consistency always prevail.

A special note of gratitude to my mentor MANOJ SHARMA, this achievement would not have been possible without his guidance and encouragement.

One of the things that really stood out during my preparation was the way complex CISSP concepts were explained with clarity and real-world perspective. Manoj sir focuses heavily on building the right security mindset, which is extremely important for the exam.

The scenario-based mock tests and practice discussions were particularly valuable. They helped me understand how to interpret CISSP questions and approach them from a risk and management perspective, which is exactly what the exam expects.
Another great aspect of the Cybernous ecosystem is the structured preparation approach and continuous support, which helped me stay consistent and confident throughout the process.
I'm grateful for the mentorship and the learning experience.
For anyone preparing for CISSP, focusing on strong core concepts and the right exam mindset truly makes a difference
I would also like to appreciate ISC2 for providing a seamless testing experience while continuing to uphold high global standards for cybersecurity certifications.

102 questions! This journey was a real test of consistency, patience, and mindset for me, with lot of sacrifices. Preparing alongside work and daily responsibilities wasn't easy. Many days I felt overwhelmed, especially with CISSP's language & managerial questions where multiple answers seem correct.

Through all of this, the biggest strength behind me was my family and my Manager. Even during difficult times, their constant support and encouragement kept me going when motivation was low.

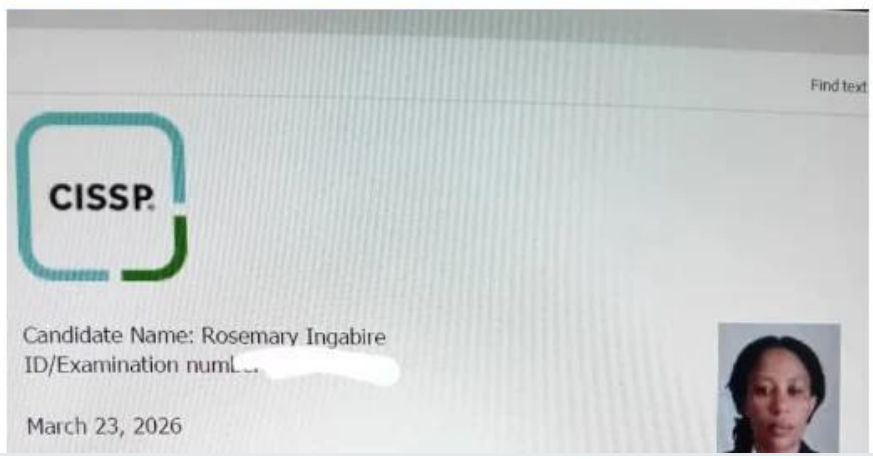

Before joining CYBERNOUS, I explored multiple platforms, personal and virtual trainers, but I always felt lost in too many resources without a clear roadmap and failed. Things changed when I started learning under MANOJ SHARMA through the CISSP Success Toolkit (CST) at CYBERNOUS. The structured environment, clear guidance, and focus on thinking like a security leader helped me move away from memorization and truly understand the decision-making mindset behind the exam. The key is, you need a mentor not a trainer, who won't rush you, but hold you like an arrow on the bow till the aim is perfectly set.

I went from feeling overwhelmed and inconsistent to becoming focused and confident during the exam.

A big thanks to MANOJ SHARMA and the entire CYBERNOUS community for the mentorship and support throughout this journey. If you're serious about CISSP and want the right structure and mindset your search ends here, I would highly recommend CYBERNOUS.

questioning if I was even preparing the right way.
What truly made the difference was getting the right guidance and structure.
A big thank you MANOJ SHARMA , Pratima, and the team Cybernous Infosec Consulting LLP for being a constant support system throughout this journey. It wasn't just about covering content — it was about understanding how to think, how to approach questions, and how to stay consistent even when things felt difficult.
The mentorship, live sessions, and practice approach helped me shift from just "studying" to actually building confidence for the exam.
Grateful for all the support and guidance.
For anyone currently preparing for CISSP — trust the process, stay consistent, and most importantly, make sure you're following the right approach.

Milestone unlocked - I've successfully cleared the CISSP exam!

Completing the exam at 100 questions made it a truly challenging and rewarding experience. This journey pushed me to think deeper, stay consistent, and strengthen my overall understanding of cybersecurity.

It wouldn't have been possible without continuous learning, hands-on experience, and applying concepts to real-world scenarios.

A special thanks to my mentor MANOJ SHARMA sir for his constant motivation and for guiding me based on my strengths and areas of improvement 🙏

I would also like to thank Pratima Sharma ma'am and the entire team at Cybernous Infosec Consulting LLP for being a constant support system throughout this journey.

Thank you Vishva Shankar for your continuous support, motivation, and for pushing me to be better every day.

Grateful for all the support along the way, and excited to keep growing in the cybersecurity space 🚀

From "hoping" to CISSP certified

More wins from professionals who trained the managerial way.

I am delighted to share that I have successfully earned the CISSP certification. This milestone has been a long time in the making, and the journey was as much about discipline and consistency as it was about technical knowledge.
Like many working professionals, balancing preparation with demanding schedules was a challenge. I often found myself starting strong, only to lose momentum when work pressures mounted. The exam format—with scenario-based questions and nuanced options—added another layer of complexity.

My turning point came when I discovered MANOJ SHARMA Sir through YouTube and subsequently joined Cybernous Infosec Consulting LLP. The structured @cissp provided clarity and direction, transforming preparation into a manageable daily routine that fit seamlessly around work commitments.

The #interactivegymsessions were particularly impactful. Engaging with peers in real-time, being challenged to articulate the reasoning behind each answer, and refining thought processes under guidance fundamentally changed how I approached CISSP questions.

Equally important was the personal support MANOJ SHARMA Sir reaching out when my pace slowed was a small but meaningful gesture that kept me accountable and motivated.

This achievement is not just a certification; it represents resilience, structured learning, and the value of mentorship. I am deeply grateful to MANOJ SHARMA Sir and Cybernous for their guidance and support throughout this journey.

Sharing a milestone! 🎉

I am incredibly happy to share that I have successfully crossed the finish line and provisionally cleared my CISSP exam!

A massive thank you to MANOJ SHARMA Sir (Cybernous Infosec Consulting LLP) — your real-world insights, mentorship, and deep conceptual approach changed the way I looked at the material. The CST platform played a significant role in my preparation for the exam.

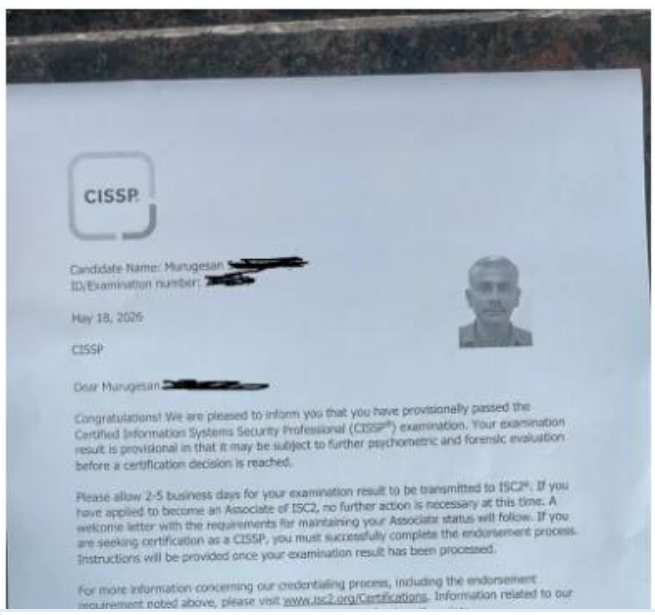

Special Thanks to Shivesh Agrawal for helping in my journey!

The learning never stops—excited for the next milestone! 🧠✨
